

Highlights of the Week

Welcome to another exciting school year at school house Montessori Academy. My name is Asima Rizvi, I am your child's lead teacher in Willow room. I will be working very closely with my assistants teachers; Mrs. Galarza, Mrs. Jha, Mrs. shah and Ms. Grim. Under my supervision, we will all be working together to guide your child in his/her learning. Each teacher is assigned to your child's primary care giver as well. Throughout this year my focus is to expose your child to the Montessori learning environment. They will be provided with activities, materials and adequate time to explore. All these will help the toddlers learning become easy and fun. I will make the class room interesting and present Montessori learning experience to their level. I will focus on academics, as well as plan activities to develop their creativity and master their skills.

We are honored to be entrusted with your precious little ones. They are lovable, bright and active learners . This week, ground rules, grace and courtesy are being introduced, along with many other Montessori methods. We are very impressed on how well they sit and are attentive during the presentations. We are committed to getting to know our toddlers more, making them feel comfortable, and helping them to adjust from the long summer break. As their curious minds begin to grow with fascination of their environment, we are eager to introduce weekly Montessori lessons. These Montessori lessons include learning to carry their work rugs, as well as unroll and roll them. For our gross motor development, we are practicing to walk on the black line, dancing and having lots of fun. In sensorial toddlers are working on perception of colors . They are all doing an amazing job participating in all classroom activities.

Home/School Connection:

Cut an apple widthwise and you will see a star shape made by the seed pattern. Show your child the star shape. After your child had a chance to see the "star" you can take seeds out and count them in whatever languages your child speaks.
